WHY BRAVO BRAVISSIMO

We were one of the first organizations for private and corporate event planning in Italy, and we have never stopped working - and having fun - in thinking up and realizing any kind of event, ceremony and reception. We work with private and corporate clients, in Italy and abroad, proposing unique and original services; we are very professional with a colourful creative imagination, and innate and infallible taste which guides us in our searches for the best of Italian Style. Why did we decide to call ourselves Bravo Bravissimo? Because they are among the most known Italian words, used all over the world to express appreciation and admiration, and to highlight an applause, and we like to think that our clients will remember us easily.

Talk to us; tell us about your dreams and desires. We know how to listen, help and organize everything to the most minute detail, including that sudden flash of astonishment in your guests' eyes.

BRAVO BRAVISSIMO has provided experience and organization for the realization of events and weddings since 1991.

With our consultation we will walk you through choosing a venue, conceptualizing decorations, and the organization of ceremonies and receptions to the last detail.

Our qualified team guarantees creativity and precision for any kind of request, for both private and corporate events, providing our clients and their guests with an enchanting and exciting experience.

We communicate well, are attentive and available, and we respond to your requests with original proposals until each of our events is different from all others. thanks to our typical Italian style, inspiration, innate elegance, creativity and obsessive cure to detail.

OUR SERVICES

We provide all the services necessary for the organization and realization of any type of event, offering the best that the market can offer, starting from the location and catering to welcome your guests and continuing through all the other services. Thus, we will realize your event just as you imagined it, making it unforgettable.

By each customer will always stand one of our managers, to follow every organizational stage of the event, to carry out the necessary technical inspections, to take care of the management of the suppliers, to plan the agenda of the appointments and to be present throughout the event, monitoring for its accurate completion.

Our offices are in Siena and Rome but we also operate in Milan; we are at your disposal to introduce to you highly professional services, original solutions and extraordinary venues that represent the best of Italian beauty and elegance.
